NAME: N K A Rupasinghe

I am a BSc Agriculture graduate graduated in 1980 and did my masters in 1993 in the field of Agricultural Extension at the Reading University in UK. Presently, I am working as a Deputy Director of the Department of Export Agriculture in Sri Lanka. I bear the responsibilities of planning, execution, supervision and monitoring of development programmes related to the export agricultural crop sector. The export agricultural crop sub sector is comprised of perennial spices, beverage crops; coffee and cocoa and industrial crops. I have twenty five years of field experience as an Agricultural Extension Manager.

In addition to that I am coordinating the organic agriculture development programme of the Department at national level and a member of the Steering Committee of the EU_SL Organic Agriculture Project in Sri Lanka.
